"I use SkillsTutor in conjunction with the regular text. The program allows me to assign the concepts that match what the students are learning. This gives them extra practice, and it's on a computer, which is more fun for the students. In the GED class I teach, they go through the program at their own pace. Most are adults and are self-motivated, therefore, the program works beautifully for them. In both areas, immediate feedback on progress and the program can generate numerous reports that a teacher needs."

"I love SkillsTutor! It targets particular areas of instruction that I emphasize in class and provides an interactive opportunity for students to remediate and/or enrich their skills. I use it to differentiate instruction by assigning different skills to different students based on their needs. Students are excited to use it in class and complete the assignments on their own at home."
